

MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of the San Diego Chapter of Quail Unlimited is to preserve and improve the natural habitat of quail on public lands for the purpose of maintaining healthy quail populations, enhancing hunting opportunities, and for the general benefit of all wildlife.

Our efforts are designed to improve the habitat of quail, to the benefit of all types of birds and animals. Wildlife from mice to deer use the water sites we develop and the improved habitat provides food and shelter for all. This is accomplished through the following activities:

We rehabilitate water sites that were built in previous decades by various conservation groups including CCC, WPA, U.S. Forest Service, Bureau of Land Management, and Calif. Dept. of Fish and Game. Once restored, we regularly check and maintain them as necessary.

Some areas require the elimination of invasive plant species to return the habitat to its natural state that will support quail and a diversity of wildlife.

We develop new sites on public land. The focus is on providing water since it is frequently the single most crucial element for survival in our area. We supplement water sites by providing cover and food sources for wildlife.

We monitor quail populations by means of call routes and brood counts to assist the Dept. of Fish and Game in maintaining healthy populations of quail.
